ABOUT

ME

I'm Magdalena Castro: a Graphic Designer and illustrator residing in Queens, New York.

I enjoy drawing in pencil and charcoal. My curiosity and appreciation for art allows me to push myself from doing things outside my comfort zone. I have recently experimented with ink and watercolors and hope to try other mediums. My thirst to always make a better execution than my previous pieces is what I love about design. Every decision, big or small, that you make in your design matters. From the size, typeface, stroke size, color(s), or even shapes you use helps create and execute an idea or message to the world. Executing ideas effectively is what I hope to accomplish in every single piece I design. I also love to draw my umbrella cockatoo, Snowball as a hobby. Listening to all music when I am stuck on a piece I'm working on inspires me and helps me get back on track.
